INVITATION

We are thrilled to extend this exclusive invitation to you for the 35th Annual Queensland Mining Industry Health and Safety Conference (QMIHSC), scheduled to take place from 18–21 August 2024, at The Star, Gold Coast.

With the theme “Back to the future” we will explore if the simplicity of the past can work in harmony with advancements in the present, to navigate safely, a complex and evolving future.

Our program, crafted with invaluable insights from past delegates and industry experts, guarantees a comprehensive exploration of the evolving health and safety terrain within the mining sector. From panel discussions to interactive workshops, each session is tailored to provide actionable insights and strategies that align with the dynamic needs of our industry.

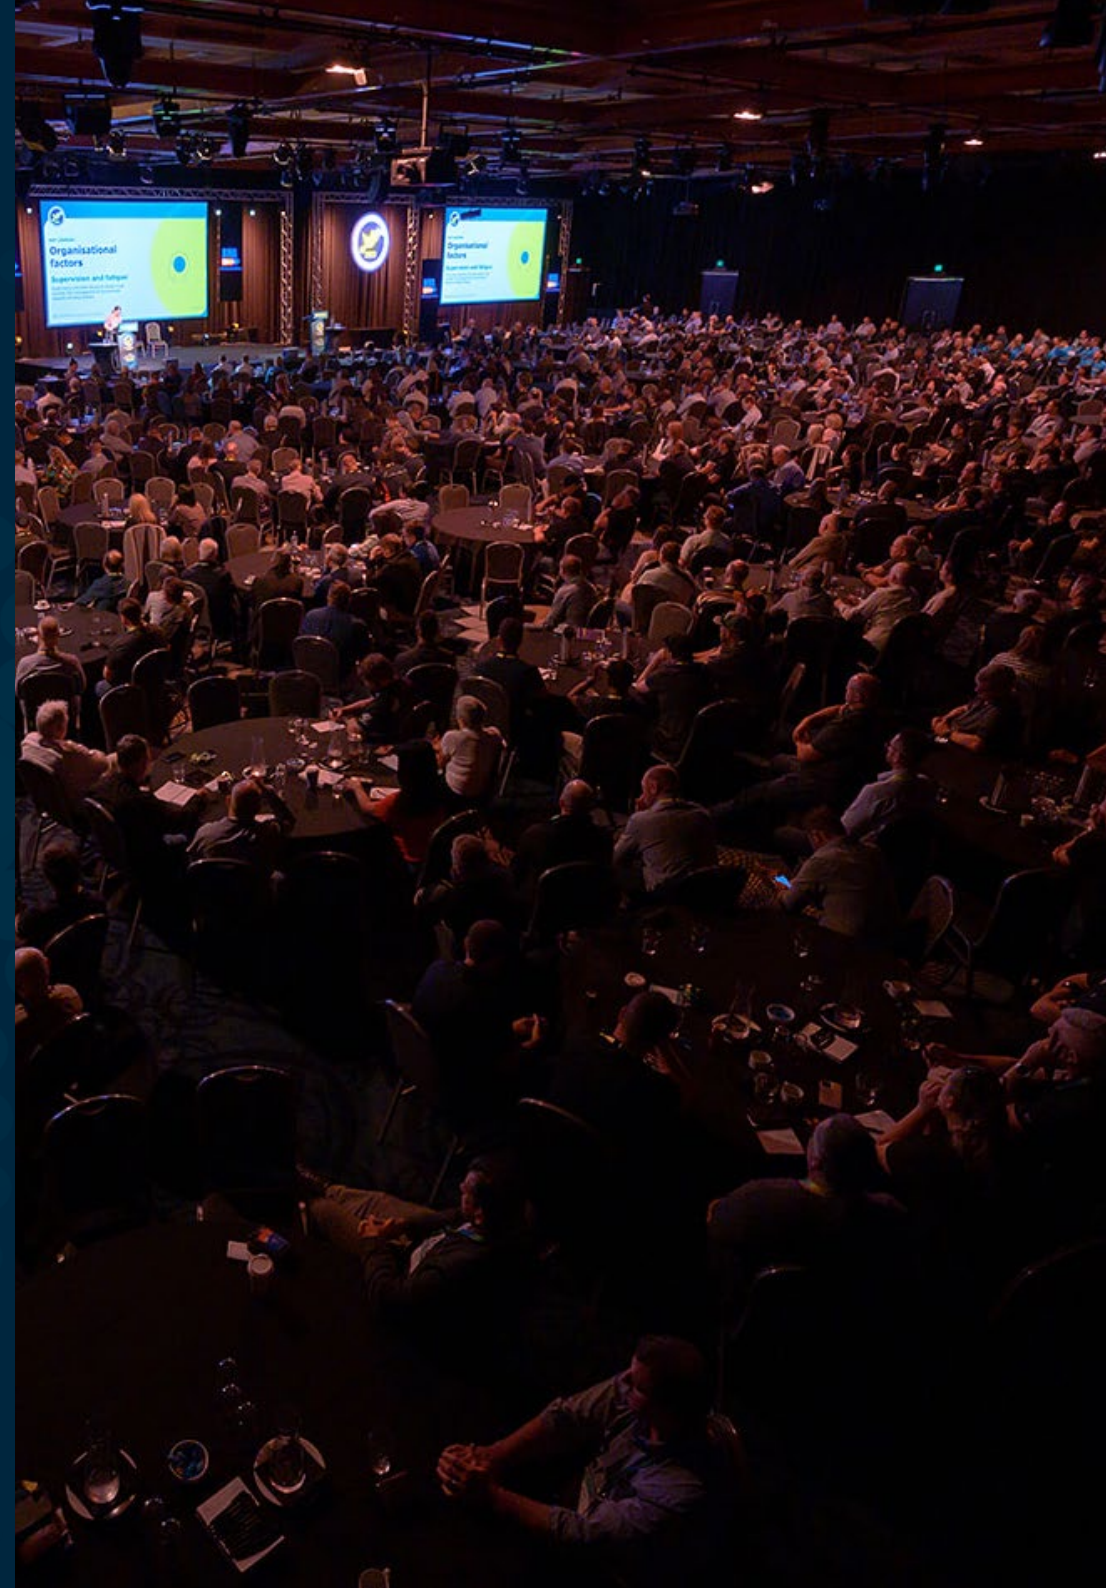

In addition to the enriching content, we are excited to offer networking opportunities, allowing you to engage with fellow industry leaders, forge new partnerships, and explore innovative solutions that drive sustainable growth and development.

Moreover, we are honored to continue our tradition of supporting impactful initiatives within our community. This year, we are proud to announce that the proceeds from our Monday night informal dinner auction will go towards supporting ManUp Australia’s commendable efforts in early prostate cancer detection.

As valued sponsors and exhibitors, your presence at QMIHSC is integral to the success of this premier event. We invite you to showcase your latest innovations, connect with industry peers, and seize countless opportunities to elevate your brand.

Larnie Mackay
QMIHSC 2024 Chair
General Manager of MyneSight part of the Metarock Group

WHO ATTENDS?

The conference will attract approximately 1000+ attendees including:

- CEOs of mining industry companies
- Health and hygiene professionals
- Mine managers and supervisors
- Government regulators
- Mine workers
- Trainers
- Safety and health managers
- Researchers
- Safety and health representatives
- Lawyers
- Safety and health professionals
- Suppliers of safety and health products and services

Similar to previous events, our goal is to facilitate connections between established leaders and emerging professionals in these diverse fields. This networking opportunity is crucial for career development, fostering new collaborations, and advancing safety and health initiatives within the mining industry.

WHY PARTICIPATE?

Network with mining OH&S professionals in Australasia

Launch, sell and demonstrate new or existing products

Access key stakeholders and decision makers

Increase corporate, brand and product awareness
